

OUR DIFFERENCE

What differentiates MXS SpineX SpineCare treatment from other therapy is that:

- We have the ability to truly isolate the spine, and therefore the capability to accurately and objectively test, restore and evaluate spinal function.
- We do not treat chronic back and neck pain patients with passive and/or subjective treatment. We've also limited our reliance upon diagnostic imaging.

Our procedures and protocols emphasise safe isolated, insistent muscle strengthening therapy.

Lasting relief comes from significant improvements in strengthening the supporting structure of the spine. The longer a patient has experienced chronic pain, the greater their strength and functional deficits. As pain increases a patient instinctively protects the area by discontinuing activities. Inactivity initiates a de-conditioning syndrome that negatively impacts symptoms and weakens the body.

Accurate testing, functional restoration or strengthening of the spine, and the evaluation of spinal function, before and during treatment, is impossible unless specific machines that truly isolate spine function are utilised.

Our medical machines are the only devices that have been scientifically researched and medically proven to be actually effective in achieving this. Treatment of spinal pathology in this objective manner will, as the research demonstrates:

- Restore spinal function.
- Alleviate back and neck pain.
- Prevent spinal surgeries and injury.
- Reduce the need for ongoing costly care.
- Provide the best pre and post operative care for cases where surgery is a must.
